If you know the title (ex. Fried Green Tomatoes):

1. In the Basic Search tab, enter the search phrase: fried green tomatoes.
2. Select Title from the drop down menu.
3. Limit the search to Videorecordings.

![Image of search interface]

If you know and actor’s or director’s name (ex. Yeaworth) as well as a word from the title (blob):

1. In the Basic Search tab, enter the search phrase: yeaworth and blob.
2. Select Keyword from the drop down menu.
3. Limit the search to Videorecordings.

![Image of search interface]

If you know the genre (ex. roman architecture):

1. In the Basic Search tab, enter the search phrase: roman architecture.
2. Select Keyword from the drop down menu.
3. Limit the search to Videorecordings.

![Image of search interface]

Additional tips:
If you’re interested in browsing the collections for specific genres or topics such as British comedy, for example, you may have to begin with a very general search and conduct one or two increasing specific searches. For example:

Search 1, broad

1. In the Basic Search tab, enter the phrase: British comedy.
2. Select Keyword from the drop down menu.
3. Limit the search to Videorecordings.

This should result in a list of more than 30 items. You will see some Britcoms as well as several films related to Shakespearean comedy.
Search 2, narrowed

1. From the results list of your first search, open a record for an item that matches your interest. In this case, Yes, Minister.

2. Scroll through the record and pull out key terms that best describe what you are looking for. In this example you will see the phrase Television comedies and Great Britain in the LC Subjects.

3. Return to the Basic Search tab. Using quotation marks around each unique phrase, enter: “television comedies” and “Great Britain” into the search field.

4. Select Keyword from the drop down menu.

5. Limit your search to Videorecordings.

When you've found what you want:

Find the call number listed under “Holdings Information” at the bottom of the record. Write down the call number and bring it up to the circulation desk in the Music & Media Center where staff will retrieve your DVD for you.

The Music & Media Center is located on the 4th floor of Howard-Tilton Memorial Library.

Need help? Contact the Research Help Desk anytime you have questions: visit us in person, call 504-865-5606, go to library.tulane.edu/help, or email libref@tulane.edu